

BECOMING CONSCIOUS OF CAPITALISM

The Death and Rebirth of Prosperity's Dream

An Invitation ...

Follow this series, spiked with irreverent humor and wisdom, by Alan Briskin

Beginning in a London pub in 1867 and bringing us into the 2012 US election, pursue a journal of cogent reflections and provocative insights on the social effects of capitalism and the roots of partisan politics. Paired with the author's high dynamic range photographs and “flash points” drawn from current news and historical perspectives, the author seeks to recover lost wisdom and courageous action beyond the shouting and noise of today's headlines.
